NEW QUESTION: 1

Contoso. Ltd. has Microsoft SQL Server databases that support a custom application. The current SQL Server environment consists of two servers: ContosoSQL1 and ComosoSQL2. These two servers participate in an Always On Availability Group named ContosoAG1 that is configured to use synchronous-commit with automatic failover. The secondary replica is not configured for read-only access.

The application performs both transactional processing and historical data retrieval in a database named ContosoDB. The application includes an inventory management module. The inventory management module and database have experienced performance issues.

Users report that a Query named inventoryQuery1 takes a long time to complete. The query is shown as follows:

```
SELECT ProductNumber, Name, ProductLine
FROM Production.Product
WHERE ProductNumber = N'

The query plan used by SQL Server for this query is shown in the exhibit.

Various Performance issues, including frequent long-term blocking episodes, prevent business users from completing their daily tasks. You suspect the tempdb database resources could be responsible. You must create blocking reports for the contosoDB database to identify issues.

You plan to use Extended Events to review all Transact SQL statements that are run against the ContosoSQL1 instance. The output from the Extended Events session must contain both start and stop events and must be written to a file. You must configure the Extended Events session to minimize possible data loss and reduce the effect on server performance.

You plan to deploy an additional secondary replica named contosoSQL3 to ContosoAG1. Read-only traffic must be load-balanced between the two secondary replicas, regardless of which instance is the primary replica.

Contoso plans to add an additional dedicated reporting system that will rely on real-time data from the transactional database.

The company plans to improve their high availability/disaster recovery (HA/DR) solution. As part of the planned improvements, you will back up all databases from ContosoSQL1 directory to an off-site location.

You need to create the blocking reports.

NEW QUESTION: 2

You use the Task.Run() method to launch a long-running data processing operation. The data processing operation often fails in times of heavy network congestion.

If the data processing operation fails, a second operation must clean up any results of the first operation.

You need to ensure that the second operation is invoked only if the data processing operation throws an unhandled exception.

What should you do?

- A. Create a task within the operation, and set the Task.StartOnError property to true.
- B. Use the TaskScheduler class to create a task and call the TryExecuteTask() method on the class.
- C. Create a task by calling the Task.ContinueWith() method.
- D. Create a TaskFactory object and call the ContinueWhenAll() method of the object.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Explanation

Task.ContinueWith - Creates a continuation that executes asynchronously when the target Task completes. The returned Task will not be scheduled for execution until the current task has completed, whether it completes due to running to completion successfully, faulting due to an unhandled exception, or exiting out early due to being canceled.
