NEW QUESTION: 1
Choose three options that describe the features associated with a Live Media installation.
A. installs the desktop based packages

B. can be used to install only x86 platforms
C. allowsboth automatic and manual configuration of the network
D. does not allow the root user to log in to the system directly from the console (or any terminal)
E. installs both the server-based and desktop-based package
F. installs the server-based set of packages only
G. provides a "hands free" installation
Answer: A,B,G
Explanation:
The graphical installer is officially known as the "Live Media." This means that Oracle Solaris can be booted into RAM, causing zero impact on your existing operating system. After it is loaded, you are free to experiment with Oracle Solaris to determine whether it is something you would like to install to your system.
You can download Oracle Solaris 11 Live Media for x86, which is an approximately 800 MB image file, and use a DVD burner to create the disk, or you can use the ISO image directly in a virtual machine or through the Oracle Integrated Lights Out Manager (ILOM) Remote Console.
The Live Media is not intended for long-term use. For example, any changes that you make to the system are lost when the system is shut down. Therefore, the next logical step is to install Oracle Solaris on the system, which the Live Media makes easy by placing an Install Oracle Solaris icon right on the desktop. But before we head down that road, let's step back a bit and consider the installation options.
Note: The Live Media provides administrators with an opportunity to explore the Oracle Solaris 11 environment without installing it on a system. The system boots off the media directly allowing administrators to start the installer should they choose to install it to a system.

NEW QUESTION: 2
How many separate installers does HP Access Control vl 6.2 and above have?
A. 0
B. 1
C. 2
D. 3
Answer: D

NEW QUESTION: 3
Refer to the output of the three router commands shown in the exhibit. A new technician has been told to add a new LAN to the company router. Why has the technician received the error message that is shown following the last command?

A. The interface was already configured.
B. The IOS software loaded on the router is outdated.
C. The interface type does not exist on this router platform.
D. The command was entered from the wrong prompt.
E. The router does not support LAN interfaces that use Ethernet.
Answer: C
Explanation:
From the output of the "show version" command, we learn that there are only 2 FastEthernet interfaces (2 FastEthernet/IEEE 802.3 interfaces) and this router does not have any Ethernet interface so an error will occur when we enter the "interface e0" command.

NEW QUESTION: 4
